

Improv Workshop

Want to play? For FREE!?

Have you ever wanted to try your hand at improvisational theater? Here's your chance! No previous experience necessary or desired. It will be a learning experience for everyone involved.

There is no long term commitment. Stop by any time. Even if you just want to check it out for a session, that's fine with us! The more, the merrier. We are trying to get something that will run all year long, so there will be many opportunities to join.

A goal with this project is to have at least one spin-off group that would perform in various venues around the area in both the improvisational and sketch comedy formats.

The Media Collective

is looking to start a workshop that would meet on a regular basis to play a variety of games from the many different improv schools across the country/world.

Even if you have already had "formal" training, there is always something you can take away from working with a new group of people and we could certainly learn something from you as well.

If you are interested, please contact us at improv@themediacollective.org to let us know!

improv.themediacollective.org
improv@themediacollective.org